What is an Apprenticeship?

An Apprenticeship is a package of training that is delivered while you are working. Apprenticeships allow you to gain qualifications which will enhance your skills and develop you professionally whilst you are earning and working in a relevant working environment. The apprenticeship training programme is a fantastic way of putting theory into practice, as you gain real experience in the workplace and if you are already employed in a relevant industry you will benefit from the knowledge gained to increasing career prospects.

The training includes NVQ Diploma, Functional Skills in Maths, English and ICT. You may be exempt from Maths and English but this is dependent upon the GCSE grade (or equivalent) achieved (evidence of qualification will be required). You will be asked to complete an initial assessment in literacy and numeracy skills as part of your enrolment onto the programme.

Why should I choose to do an Apprenticeship?

Apprenticeship are available to anyone who is over the age of 16 and not in full time education. The Government have recognised the importance of Apprenticeship training and how it is a vital instrument in their objective of up skilling the countries workforce. The apprenticeship reform introduced in May 2017, will actively encourage employers to invest in Apprenticeship training, through the Government Levy. All employers whether they are levy or non-levy paying are recognising the benefits of investing in apprenticeship training to both existing and new staff. Employers are required to commit to their staffs apprenticeship training by supporting them with at least 20% off the job training.
